a. Caleb Yu, Graduate and International Student Career Advisor, Introduction to the Assembly and Overview of the Career Resources Available for Students at Cornell

i. C. Yu: We are located in 103 Barnes Hall next to the Cornell Store. What we do is help with career exploration meaning if you know what you want to do we can help you get there. You can make an appointment to talk to us with any questions. We also have graduate school and professional advisors that have specialized knowledge about particular careers fields or schools. We also have specialized advisors who can help students with their specific cases. Some useful websites that graduate students can use to see career or field trends include Versatile PhD, Imagine Phd, Beyond the Professoriate, Inside Higher Ed, Handshake, LinkedIn, and CUeLINKS. CUeLINKS is a platform meant for friends of Cornell to share their knowledge to achieve their particular goals. We have also brought back the Grad Student Beyond Academia Newsletter which you can subscribe to. The newsletter talks about job opportunities as well as career fairs on and off campus. My email is ry274@cornell.edu if you have any other questions to me.

ii. K. Plumbo: How does the central career services department work with the school level career services department? What are the advantages of coming to the central career services department?

iii. C. Yu: Well the school level career services department may have more specific knowledge to help you. But as the central career services we have more may resource to bring in the help that you need. Cornell is can be very big and decentralized. One of my challenges is how to work with the colleges to reach more students and provide the resources that they need. I still have not found the best platform in order to reach more students. I would like to reach more targeted students and receive their feedback in order to best help them.
iv. Alex L.: Do you have drop in hours?

v. C. Yu: Yes, we do every day, but if you have specific questions it would be much better to make an appointment by email or phone.

vi. Andy B.: Can someone in the career center help them convert their CV into a resume?

vii. C. Yu: Yes, but we would students attempt to do it first, then we could work with them. It is also very helpful for the student to have a job description.

viii. K. Krishnan: How do you guys work with helping students make international job connection, and how do you work with international alumni with things such CUeLINKS.

ix. C. Yu: Yes, I have been working with the alumni affairs, and there is a way to view people by locations on CUeLINKS. As for international students I feel that the best way to look for a job, whether in or out of the US, is to build their network. We are here to support them become more confident and even create an elevator pitch.

x. K. Palumbo: What would an appointment be with you like, for example if I was a graduating masters student worried about my career what would that appointment be like?

xi. C. Yu: Well there is no cookie cutter version. But first I would say hello and ask them to talk about their self, their goals, and values. And would ask them for what specific questions they have and then provide with the resources they need. Whether it be referring them to a colleague or different center xii. S. Bosco: As a STEM student with programs such as BEST, when and why should we come to you versus other programs?

xiii. C. Yu: In terms of picking what office you should go to, it depends on what you need. I would say the best way to approach the situation would be to ask multiple people, and do your research. Also ask your peers and other people in the grad school.

- A short one-question survey: The Graduate School and BRB want to pilot first-time ever summer open hours for the BRB. What would YOU like to see happening in terms of events and activities at the BRB for the summer? (Top of my list is “sell ice cream.” We also will have free yoga classes for graduate students. If the BRB can’t be cooled further, then we call it “Hot Yoga!” We’ll do the yoga outside on the lawn, weather permitting.)
