Cornell University Graduate and Professional Student Assembly

- a. A Motion was made to move the presentation of J. Thomas before that of Anabel's grocery. There was no dissent.
- b. Presentation from J. Thomas, Senior Director, Cornell Real Estate
  - i. J. Thomas thanked the GPSA for its feedback on the Maplewood development and for passing Resolution 4. J. Thomas said it is important for graduate student voices to be represented. J. Thomas said it would be really good for the development if graduate students showed up at the October 18th planning board meeting.
  - ii. I. Smythe asked what the timeline looks like if things go well.
  - iii. J. Thomas replied that they hoped to start demolition in December, and hopefully have occupancy commence in July 2018.
  - iv. A. Loiben asked what the final number of beds would be
  - v. J. Thomas said the final total was at 872 beds. He also said to please get into contact with him if further questions arise, his netID is jt675.
  - vi. N. Rogers said that G. Giambattista was booking a shuttle bus to the planning board meeting and that the bus would meet behind the Big Red Barn.
- c. Presentation from A. Donovan, L. Gorman, and A. Shelepak, Co-Directors of Anabel's Grocery.
  - i. Full access to the space will begin in February. A labor shortage in the summer caused the delay in opening.
  - ii. L. Gorman: the GPSA has allocated $20,000 a year for the next four years, for subsidies for food insecure students. The $20,000 for this year is for construction and to get the store operating. Yearly 20,000 will be allocated with consent of the GPSA liaison.
  - iii. A. Donovan: the SA has a liaison that will attend Anabel's Grocery meetings, and they would like a GPSA liaison to come as well.
  - iv. A. Shelepak described cost saving methods Anabel's Grocery will implement, such as hiring federal work study students.
  - v. L. Gorman added that the Grocery will be staffed by volunteers in addition to paid staff.

Cornell University Graduate and Professional Student Assembly

- vi. A. Donovan stated that currently the Grocery is operating with a student volunteer team of about 35 people.
- vii. A. Loiben asked how will Anabel's solicit leadership positions.
- viii. L. Gorman said it is very important to them to bring in new leaders. They have been looking at other student operated groceries at Georgetown and the UAmherst to develop a plan.
- ix. M. Munasinghe asked what would happen to food waste.
- x. L. Gorman said that they do not want to contribute to American food waste, and that they are looking at donating to local food pantries.
- xi. A. Shelepak added that cooking lessons will use goods that are close to expiration.
- xii. M. Munasinghe asked if Anabel's is looking to send someone to GPSA meetings or the other way round?
- xiii. A. Donovan responded that the SA liaison will attend Anabel's meetings, and that the GPSA liaison would also if the GPSA desired.
- xiv. I. Smythe asked if staff positions will be open to international students.
- xv. L. Gorman replied that the volunteer positions are, but that they do not know if paid positions will be available yet.
- xvi. A question was asked if the discounts will be posted throughout the store, and will students know before they walk into the store if they're eligible for the discounts.
- xvii. A. Shelepak: Yes. Every student will swipe their [ID] card to eliminate any stigma, it's basically to insure you're a Cornell student. That would trigger the discount. It would require a registration process, and to be eligible for the discount, you would have to fill out a survey prior to entering the store which would give you some feedback on whether you qualify for the discount.
- xviii. A further clarification was asked if the buyer would know before they walk up to the counter that they're going to get a discount.
- xix. A. Shelepak: Yes, we have to work on engineering the ultimate margin on our goods, what the discount will end up being.....it would not be posted throughout the store, just the list price would be seen there, but you would know that you would receive a percentage discount. It would then be applied to your bundle of goods as you check out.

- xx. N. Stetson asked if Anabel's would be open over breaks.
  - xxi. L. Gorman replied not this summer, but the goal is to be open during future breaks. Anabel's will be available for professional students as well as graduate students.
  - xxii. L. Gorman said employees will receive a store discount to encourage applicants.
  - xxiii. N. Rogers asked what about the parking situation.
  - xxiv. A. Shelepak responded that there is high foot traffic, a bus stop, a small parking lot and the Sage Hall parking lot. N. Rogers asked if there will be carts or hand baskets. A. Shelepak responded that there will be hand baskets.
  - xxv. A. Loiben asked why this method would be more effective than holding food drives.
  - xxvi. A. Shelepak replied that it's a fixed cost investment and that this will be a much more permanent solution to a constant problem.
  - xxvii. A. Donovan said the goal was to empower people to purchase their own food and increase food literacy.
  - xxviii. R. Walroth asked how long GPSA funding should last for Anabel's.
  - xxix. A. Donovan replied that the money goes into the subsidy fund, and that the fund once it gets going should sustain itself. A lot of alumni and philanthropists are interested as well, so they are confident the fund will not be depleted.
- d. Presentation from N. Rogers and M. Munasinghe on committee staffing.
- i. N. Rogers reminded the assembly that the GPSA has obligations through the charter and bylaws to staff university committees. Last year the committees were 75% full. This year there are only 6 applicants, which is a huge problem, and weakens the GPSA when it tries to talk to the Faculty Senate.
  - ii. M. Munasinghe then went through the filled and vacant committee seats.

Cornell University Graduate and Professional Student Assembly

1. Open committee seats included the Employee Assembly liaison, Faculty Senate liaison, and the Student Assembly liaison. These have to be from the GPSA.
  - a. I. Smythe volunteered for the Faculty Senate.
  - b. E. Michel volunteered for the Student Assembly.
2. The following University Assembly committees also needed to be staffed: Campus Infrastructure Committee, Campus Welfare Committee, Codes and Judicial Conduct Committee.

3. The various graduate school academic integrity hearing boards were filled.

a. Resolution 3

- i. N. Rogers pointed out that B. Nkounkou was present from Cornell Tech, and that he (N. Rogers) would like to see more possibilities for funding groups at other campuses. If the guidelines don't allow the GPSA to fund clubs at Cornell Tech, should the GPSA return their funding?
- ii. T. Bollu reminded the GPSA that the guidelines will go into effect next year.
- iii. M. Munasinghe and T. Bollu discussed line 265, and the change from two to one dollars in that line.
- iv. R. Walroth asked if the field funding is in addition to the tier system? The answer is yes, it is.
- v. T. Snider asked how can the GPSAFC encourage attendance.
- vi. T. Bollu said the FC did not want to require mandatory attendance taking, because this would encourage attendance fraud, so the word "encourage" was added.
- vii. A motion was made to table the resolution until the next meeting, there was dissent.

VII. Open forum

- a. N. Rogers brought up Cornell Tech. He said there is a critical mass of PhD students at Cornell Tech who do a back and forth and they are seeking representation (their representative body is called PACT). Current funding guidelines don't allow the GPSA to fund them, however a resolution will be introduced to change the rules so that the GPSA can fund them.
- b. The GPSA was urged to read the GPSAFC's opinion paper included in this meeting's packet.
- c. The time for the meeting expired, the Assembly was adjourned automatically.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:20pm.

Respectfully Submitted,
