10 Whereas, Transfer Option Students and transfer students in their freshman year want to be aware of 11 current news at Cornell and often times feel like they are unaware of major events that take place
12 at Cornell

13
14 Whereas, the University has a vested interest in keeping potential students up to date on current news
15 and has said it wants to improve the way in which they communicate with transfers and first year
16 spring admits.

17
18 Whereas, Transfer Option Students, transfer students, and first year spring admits want to receive more
19 direct communication from Cornell and specifically, the Class of 2019 Transfer Option Students
20 and first year spring admits have expressed a great deal of interest in improving communication
21 between them and the University.
22

23 Be it therefore resolved, the Cornell Chronicle and other materials, at the discretion of the individual
24 colleges, are sent out as soon as possible.

25
26 Be it finally resolved, these materials will have an opt-out clause so students can choose to stop
27 receiving the newsletter at any time.
