9
10 Whereas, Cornell University was founded on the fundamental notion of "any person, any study"
11 and;

12
13 Whereas, our peer institutions such as Yale University², Brown University³, Stanford University⁴,
14 allow American Sign Language (ASL) to fulfill a foreign language requirement and;

15
16 Whereas, the Student Assembly passed Referendum 35: "Should American Sign Language satisfy
17 the foreign language requirement at Cornell?" on March 9th, 2017 with 3164 yes votes and 674 no
18 votes⁵ and;

19
20 Whereas, culture is a set of learned behaviors of a group of people that share a language, values,
21 rules for behavior, and traditions and;

22
23 Whereas, deaf culture⁶ is the set of social beliefs, behaviors, art, literary traditions, history, values,
24 and shared institutions of communities that are influenced by deafness and which use sign
25 languages as the main means of communication and;

26
27 Whereas, American Sign Language does not currently fulfill the foreign language requirement and;

28
29 Whereas, Cornell University only offers LING 1111: American Sign Language I during the summer
30 Session and;

31
32 Whereas, students who already know the American Sign Language may struggle to take a placement
33 exam⁷ out of it and;

¹ The Curriculum Review Committee (CRC) is currently working on a new draft of the curriculum proposal based on feedback from the initial draft and further discussions with faculty throughout the fall 2017 semester. The next iteration of the draft proposal will be made available for faculty to review by the start of the spring 2018 semester. The CRC will then solicit feedback on this proposal during the spring semester.
