Whereas, the Charter of the Student Assembly grants the Assembly the “authority and the responsibility to examine any matters which involve the interests or concern the welfare of the student community;

Whereas, representatives on the Student Assembly are interested in gauging the opinion of students in the ILR School on academic policies that they are subject to;

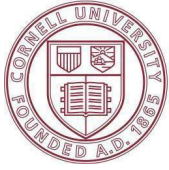

Whereas, the ILR School adopted a 18-credit per semester enrollment limit during the 2022-23 Academic Year;

Whereas, ILR students planning to apply to Cornell Law School's 3+3 program are disadvantaged by the 18-credit limit, as it requires students to take a full load of 18 credits in all six of their undergraduate semesters, leaving no margin for scheduling errors or other life circumstances;

Be it therefore resolved, that the Spring 2024 Student Assembly elections contain a referendum for students in the ILR School with the following question:

Should the ILR School KEEP or REMOVE the 18-credit per semester class enrollment limit for undergraduate students? [KEEP the 18-credit limit or REMOVE the 18-credit limit]

Respectfully Submitted,

Cornell University
