Minutes of the Thursday, November 7th, 2019 Meeting, 4:45-5:37 pm in 701 Clark Hall

I. Call to Order & Roll Call

- a. J. Anderson called the meeting to order at 4:45 pm.
- b. Roll Call:
  - i. Present: M. Adeghe, J. Anderson, M. Baker, C. Benedict, O. Egharevba, M. Haddad, C. Huang, J. Kroll, Y. Li, G. Martin, N. Matolka, I. Pavlov, T. Reuning, N. Watson, B. Weintraub, V. Xu, J. Youngblood, Y. Yuan
  - ii. Absent: J. Feit (unexcused), L. Ordonez (excused), L. Smith (excused), K. Wondimu (excused)
  - iii. Arrived After Roll Call: A. Cass (unexcused), U. Chukwukere (excused), J. Clancy (unexcused), P. Solovyeva (unexcused), S. Sun (unexcused), S. Xu (excused)

II. Announcements

- a. J. Anderson said that the meeting is not in its traditional setting of the Memorial Room today, and that this will be a one-time occurrence so that the audio issues in the Memorial Room can be worked out for the future. He added that those assembly members that speak quietly should project when they speak at this meeting, since there are no microphones in this room.
- b. C. Huang said that there will be Sprint Planning on Sunday, and that those members that cannot make it should let V. Xu know. She added that it will probably be in the same location as the last Sprint Planning.
- c. C. Benedict said that there are a couple of events coming in the near future including the Canandaigua Treaty Renewal, which is a treaty that exists between the United States and the Six Nations. He added that this would be taking place on Monday, November 11th, and that anyone interested in attending the renewal will be able to leave from a van at Akwe:kon at 10:00 am, which would return at around 6:00 pm.
- d. T. Reuning said that on Friday, November 15th, the Latinx community will be commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Latino Living Center and the 26th anniversary of the Day Hall takeover, which was organized by Latinx students in 1993. He added that the commemoration will begin at 4:15 at Day Hall, after which people will walk from there to the LLC, where the dean who organized the protest will be speaking.
- e. M. Haddad said that Humecathon will be happening next weekend, and that it is an event where people from all majors can come together to solve a policy problem, and that anyone interested in representing the SA at Humecathon should contact her.
- f. J. Anderson said that he is the chair of the SAFC Transformation Committee, and that progress in the committee has been wonderful, and that his goal is to have an overview document by the end of the semester at the latest to outline the major changes that have been discussed in the committee. He added that following this, there will be presentations and focus groups, which will culminate in a fully-realized change to be sent to SAFC, and that anyone who hears anything about SAFC from their constituents or the community should let him know. He also said that there will be an executive session following this meeting.

III. Open Microphone

a. No speakers at the open microphone.

IV. Approval of the Minutes

- a. October 31st Minutes
  - i. B. Weintraub moved to amend the minutes such that the term "EOC" is replaced with "EEOC" wherever it occurs amended.
  - ii. J. Anderson moved to amend the minutes such that it is reflected that his motion to extend the meeting until 8:00 pm was approved amended.
  - iii. Motion to approve the October  $31^{\text{st}}$  minutes approved.

V. Byline Reports

- a. Empathy, Assistance and Referral Service (EARS)
  - i. M. Adeghe said that EARS is a counseling service that provides counseling six nights a week for several hours on each night, and that they are completely anonymous. She added that they had $1.50 in the prior byline cycle and asked for that amount again, which was granted. She also said that there was not much to say about this organization.
  - ii. Motion to approve EARS' byline funding approved 21-0-1.
- b. Cornell Minds Matter (CMM)
  - i. M. Adeghe said that CMM provides support for people seeking mental health help, and that they are not counselors but they do help make life more comfortable for students on campus. She added that they have events in Willard Straight Hall every week, and that they wanted to go to a $2.50 funding amount to facilitate their becoming more of an umbrella organization for other mental health organizations on campus. She also said that there was not a lot of contention around this.
  - ii. T. Reuning said that he knows that the voting in AppsCom is anonymous and asked if anyone would like to speak on why there was one person who voted no.
  - iii. M. Adeghe said that she doesn't know who voted in that way or even whether or not that person is an SA member, but that she does remember that one of the things brought up in the discussion of the funding was that they did not have a structure or criteria set in place about how they plan on going about divvying up the $10,000 for co-sponsorships, and that they might have had that in mind when voting no. She added that their surplus was another thing that was slightly contentious, but that the advisor of the organization explained that she was new last year and was being particularly frugal as a result of that, and so they had a bit of a surplus. She also said that those two reasons against giving them $2.50 were probably those reflected in the vote of no.
  - iv. Motion to approve CMM's byline funding approved 21-0-1.
- c. Cornell Environmental Collaborative (ECO)

- i. M. Adeghe said that ECO is the umbrella organization for environmentallyfocused groups on campus, and that they have about 20-plus organizations under them including some project teams and organizations centered around sustainability. She added that they were at $0.76 and wanted $1.00 to expand and have more people know about them and the community on campus that supports these missions. She also said that this was also not a super contentious vote, and that there was one no-vote, but that there is nothing that she can think of as to why that would be.
- ii. Motion to approve ECO's byline funding approved 21-0-1.

VI. New Business & Business of the Day

- a. Resolution 11: Approving Special Projects Request for Social Enterprise
  - i. C. Huang presented the resolution.
  - ii. J. Youngblood asked how much money is left in the SPF right now.
  - iii. J. Anderson said that they are currently calculating that, but that they did giv themselves $70,000 from SAFC at the last meeting.
  - iv. M. Adeghe said that any members who have projects related to their constituents, such as things said in their platform, are allowed to use SPF for these initiatives, and that they do have an extra $70,000 now.
  - v. C. Huang said that she would discourage people who want retroactive funding for events that already happened from applying, but that they still may do so.
  - vi. J. Anderson said that they will be transitioning the form for these applications to something that is supported by the Office of the Assemblies so as to be sustainable.
  - vii. There was a motion to move Resolution 11 to Business of the Day approved 21-0-1.
  - viii. There was a motion to vote.
    - 1. G. Martin asked who the parliamentarian is.
    - 2. J. Anderson said that Deborah Nyakaru is, but that in her absence he is filling that role.
  - ix. Motion to vote on Resolution 11 approved 21-0-2.
- b. Resolution 12: Revising the Student Assembly Bylaws to Dictate that Community Votes be Conducted Online
  - i. J. Kroll presented the background that prompted this resolution.
  - ii. M. Haddad presented the changes that this resolution would make.
  - iii. N. Watson asked how much time in advance people would be given to know about a coming vote.
  - iv. M. Haddad said that it would normally be on a resolution that starts out as New Business and then is voted on a week later as Business of the Day, which would give about a week's time.
  - v. J. Kroll said that it would fall upon the organizations looking to mobilize people to tell them when and where to vote.
  - vi. N. Watson asked when they would therefore be sending the link.
  - vii. M. Haddad said that they would not be sending it, and that it would instead be posted on the SA website.
  - viii. C. Huang said that, to clarify for new members, they did have a very contentious vote last semester where people had to say out loud what their vote was, which made some students feel uncomfortable, and that as for her question, she loves this idea, but that if they were to have a Sense-of-the-Body resolution, and only three people were in the audience that day, if they would still use the online method, or if the vote would be conducted in person.

- ix. J. Kroll said that he doesn't think that it's particularly challenging to set up this online survey, and that it could be amended to have sponsors opt for inperson voting, but have online voting be the default.
- x. M. Haddad said that a meeting with an audience of three people could still have people who couldn't show up but wanted to.
- xi. I. Pavlov asked what the exact voting period would be, and how long the voting would be live.
- xii. J. Kroll said that it would open at the beginning of the meeting, so that people could go to the livestream of the meeting and see what is going on.
- xiii. B. Weintraub said that if this were to be made the case, then there should be no option to opt out of the online voting, and that he could see a group who can get a lot of members out to vote on a resolution that might be combative.
- xiv. J. Kroll said that he suggested opting out in passing and that he now sees that it might not be a good idea.
- xv. B. Weintraub asked if they have the tech capacity to do this.
- xvi. M. Haddad said that this was discussed with the OA, and that based on what they told them, this should be feasible.
- xvii. M. Baker said that she is not challenging this resolution and will vote in favor of it, and asked if a person can change their mind once their vote, such as if they change their mind while watching the discussion.
- xviii. J. Kroll said that that is a good question.
- xix. M. Haddad said that she does not believe that they can.
- xx. Discussion continued in this regard.
- xxi. J. Clancy said that he agrees with B. Weintraub's point in needing consistency on this, and that he also thinks that they might want to bear on the side of stating that there is a livestream to watch and then make one decision, which will make it less logistically challenging.
- xxii. T. Reuning said that his one concern is the language specifying Qualtrics, and that that might be the system now, but that Cornell might change it down the line. He added that they maybe should instead mention a "secure survey" without specifying "Qualtrics".
- xxiii. J. Kroll said that that is definitely something to consider, and that they like Qualtrics because they can track the votes.
- xxiv. O. Egharevba asked what the protocol would be if they decide to change a resolution to Sense-of-the-Body during the meeting, and if this online system would be set ahead of time.
- xxv. J. Kroll said that it's not congruent with the bylaws for such a change to happen, and that if it were, the vote would occur at the following meeting, which gives the parliamentarian and the clerk time to set that up.
- xxvi. N. Watson asked if SA members can vote in the community vote, and how they plan on stopping members from signing on to the online vote and voting if they cannot.
- xxvii. J. Anderson explained the voting process.

- xxviii. N. Watson asked how they will stop them from voting.
- xxix. Discussion continued in this regard.
- xxx. I. Pavlov said that she thinks it would be great if there were a way to mark SA members as separate, and that she disagrees that a community member's vote should be binding, and that if they have the technological capacity to allow people to change their votes, they should have that, and that if there can be a button to edit or reverse the vote, that should be possible.
- xxxi. M. Baker said that, if there is no way to do that, there should be a popup before their vote that says that the vote is binding.
- xxxii. V. Xu asked why they don't just open it in the period in which they are voting, so that they will have watched the livestream or otherwise have their opinion in mind.
- xxxiii. J. Kroll said that part of the problem is that how little time that is, and that a four-minute window might be problematic. He added that technically, the vote should be conducted before the SA votes so that the community vote can be announced.
- xxxiv. M. Haddad said that there are also prelims on Thursday nights.
- xxxv. M. Adeghe asked what prelims have to do with this issue.
- xxxvi. J. Kroll said that it might be stressful to have to keep checking for when the vote goes live.
- xxxvii. Y. Yuan said that in thinking about last semester's BDS vote, the wi-fi service in Willard Straight Hall would have been jammed if an online vote were held at that time, and so he would prefer that they can start the vote earlier than SA voting.
- xxxviii. J. Kroll said that the idea is to start the voting when the meeting starts and end it before the SA voting, and that he thinks that the wi-fi would be less of a problem than the website server itself.
- xxxix. G. Martin said that he doesn't think that this is the perfect model for accessibility, but that it is opening it up.
  - xl. M. Adeghe said that she supposes that she just didn't understand that the point was about wi-fi, and that the point is that not everyone has to be there at the time of the vote so it probably wouldn't be affected. She added that she supposes that she understands the concern about the prelims, but that she doesn't think that it makes much sense, but that this opens up accessibility more than it hurts it.
  - xli. Discussion continued in this regard.
  - xlii. B. Weintraub said that he thinks that they should try to make the voting multiple hours, and that 4 minutes is problematic, and asked what would happen if they open the meeting at 4:45 but then vote on the relevant resolution at 5:05. He added that he knows that this presents some problems, and asked what would happen if they opened the vote the morning of the meeting so that they ensure that there is a larger block of time, and then close the voting at 4:45. He also said that if they close it at 4:45 they would not hear the discussion, and that he thinks that the discussion of the variable end time could pose issues because that's generally not how voting works, so they should figure it out.
  - xliii. J. Kroll said that their current goal is to keep it as close to the current process as possible, and that if an issue is so polarizing that a significant number of undergraduate students take interest in it, the discussion of it probably won't last under an hour.

- xliv. M. Haddad said that the community votes are conducted during the meeting so that they can listen to what is going on at the meeting.
- xlv. G. Martin asked if they will have access to what the community vote is before they vote.
- xlvi. J. Kroll replied in the affirmative, and said that the vote is revealed before the SA votes, but that this did not happen at the BDS vote last semester.
- xlvii. A. Cass said that they wanted to comment on the concern raised about when to start the voting, and that they could understand if they wanted to set an amount of time that people should vote, but that they do not think that a provision like that would be necessary, but that it couldn't hurt.
- xlviii. J. Clancy said that he agrees that these community votes do not occur very often, but that they do need to be prepared for the eventuality that these things do come up, and that they have a process to deal with it, and so the thinks that going into the morning is a bit much, but having an absentee ballot to start at noon and end early would be good. He added that he thinks that starting in the morning is too much time, but starting at the meeting is too little, and that he thinks that there is some value in setting a hard deadline for voting. He also said that he is not entirely sure about how fast Qualtrics can do what it needs to do, and if the discussion ends early, they can recess, wait for the community vote, and then vote as an assembly.
- xlix. J. Kroll said that they are not ignoring the fact that this will happen in the context of contentious cases, and that this was designed for those cases, and that he thinks that they would love to extend the voting for as long as possible, but that it would turn into a gray area of a community vote vs a referendum. He added that, to keep to bylaws as closely as possible, they have to open voting up at the start of the meeting and close it at the close of debate, but that this would likely be an hour or two. He also said that he thinks that this system is imperfect, but that it does eliminate a lot of the accessibility issues.
  - 1. T. Reuning said that he agrees with the concerns about variable end times, but that exists with the current system in the first place, and that he had to run to vote in the BDS resolution last year. He added that it's an issues that exists anyway, and that it's not a perfect system, but it is more accessible than the current one, which is what they should be moving toward.
  - li. Ian Wallace said that another thing to consider is that typically, when a resolution is introduced, it is in New Business, and that such resolutions are often moved to Business of the Day on the day they're introduced and then are voted on that day, and so there might be issues there. He added that in cases of the regular procedure being followed, people would have access to the discussion of the prior week.
  - lii. M. Adeghe said that she wanted to echo what T. Reuning said about variable end times being a big concern, and that she doesn't know if there's any way to fix that, and that with this style of vote, there will always be a variable end time unless they decide to set one.
- liii. J. Kroll said that if groups understand that there might not be a debate going in and that voting would therefore happen early, it might encourage fostering debate to give people more time.

- liv. V. Xu said that she wanted to go back to the point M. Baker brought up about it not being possible to submit multiple time, and that she thinks that considering the timing issues, she doesn't think it's necessary to start a few hours earlier, and that if people are interested, they can watch the video. She added that a disclaimer should be included to make it very clear that this is the only time a vote can be cast, such that there is no confusion.
- lv. B. Weintraub moved to table the resolution.
  - 1. The motion was withdrawn.
- Ivi. I. Pavlov said that she thinks that it needs to be open at the start of the meeting and not before that because it enters the gray area of referendum vs community vote, and that as G. Martin said, they are not trying to create a perfect model because that is a wholly different thing. She added that they are making the current model more accessible, and that she does think that people should be able to change their votes if it is within their technological means.
- lvii. B. Weintraub moved to table Resolution 12 tabled 23-0-1.
- c. Resolution 13: Creating an ad-hoc Committee for PFC Transformation
  - i. J. Anderson presented the resolution.
  - ii. Motion to move the resolution to Business of the Day approved 23-0-1.
  - iii. Motion to vote on Resolution 13 approved 23-0-1.

VII. Executive Session

a. J. Anderson moved the meeting to executive session at 5:37 pm.

VIII. Adjournment

Respectfully Submitted, John Hannan Clerk of the Assembly

Organization	Convocation Committee
2018 – 2020 Allocation	$16.85
2020 – 2022 Request	$18.00
Appropriations Committee Recommendation	$18.00

Rationale of the Committee

The Committee voted to fund Convocation at $18.00 for the 2020-2022 Byline Funding Cycle.

The Committee felt that while Convocation does great work in bringing in a speaker for the seniors every May, the Convocation committee members were unable to answer or give satisfactory answers for many of the questions The Committee proposed. There were many aspects of the budget that when asked about, the presenters had no information on. While we understand the current convocation committee members were not on the committee last year, we found it difficult to come to a decision considering there was information that we felt was missing. Furthermore, part of the application is to provide hypothetical cuts to funding of 10%, 25% and 35%, The Committee was very disappointed that the hypothetical cuts were left out because Convocation felt that it was "unnecessary".

The Committee looks forward to working with Convocation in the future and seeing how this part of graduation weekend can be funded more by the University, considering that the University mandates many things during Convocation. The Committee is comfortable funding Convocation at $18 per student and wants to see as much of the SAF allocation as possible being used for the honorarium in order to secure more high profile, name-recognized speakers.

Vote Totals

The committee votes down from the highest amount proposed to the lowest, to give the group the advantage.

The vote totals from the Committee were as follows:

Amount	Vote
$18.00	11-1-1

Respectfully Submitted,

Moriah Adeghe Vice President for Finance, Cornell Student Assembly

Organization	Class Councils
2018 – 2020 Allocation	$2.35
2020 – 2022 Request	$2.40
Appropriations Committee Recommendation	$2.35

Rationale of the Committee

The Committee voted to fund Class Councils at $2.35 for the 2020-2022 Byline Funding Cycle.

The Committee supports the work that Class Councils does to try and foster class pride throughout a student's time at Cornell. The primary reason The Committee did not feel comfortable giving an increase was because of the lack of a budget. While Class Councils provided a budget outline, we felt that we did not have enough information to feel comfortable providing an increase. Furthermore, the bus program was never listed as a source of income, nor was food at meetings listed as a source of expenditure. The Committee was disappointed that we discovered that information by a committee member that had known about the food at meetings. Additionally, the lack of detailed hypothetical cuts, describing what type of programs would get cut or which specific events would be scaled down given that there was a decrease in funding, was discouraging for many Committee members.

The Committee was overall pleased with the work that Class Councils does, but the lack of a detailed budget and the missing budget information were the reasons that The Committee felt Class Councils did not need an increase in funding.

Vote Totals

The committee votes down from the highest amount proposed to the lowest, to give the group the advantage.

The vote totals from the Committee were as follows:

Amount	Vote
$2.40	1-11-2
$2.35	11-2-1

Respectfully Submitted,

Moriah Adeghe Vice President for Finance, Cornell Student Assembly

Organization	Senior Days
2018 – 2020 Allocation	$4.85
2020 – 2022 Request	$5.90
Appropriations Committee Recommendation	$5.10

Rationale of the Committee

The Committee voted to fund Senior Days at $5.10 for the 2020-2022 Byline Funding Cycle.

The Committee supports Senior days and the programs they provide during the time leading up to graduation in both May and December. The lack of a detailed budget breaking down how much was spent on each of the free and ticketed events, as well as the lack of ticket price information and attendance numbers, was what ultimately led The Committee to not fund Senior Days at their requested amount. The Committee wished that more information was provided so that we could have had a more comprehensive discussion and could have possibly funded Senior Days at the request amount. In the future we hope that Senior Days can track attendance and ticket prices for all events and present those number during the next byline funding cycle

Overall, The Committee is satisfied with the work that Senior Days does.

Vote Totals

The committee votes down from the highest amount proposed to the lowest, to give the group the advantage.

The vote totals from the Committee were as follows:

Amount	Vote
$5.90	2-8-2

$5.10	8-2-2

Respectfully Submitted,

1	S.A. Resolution #15
2	Creation of a Working Group of Student Assembly Composition, Structure, and
3	Representations
5 6	ABSTRACT: This resolution creates a working group to study the composition of the Student Assembly.
7	Sponsored by: Joe Anderson '20
8 9 10	Whereas, the Student Assembly strives to represent the interests of the undergraduate student body;
10	Whereas, many recent changes to the Student Assembly structure have come at the failures to
12 13	address the representations of needs for several communities;
13 14	Whereas, the Student Assembly has a unique structure that places itself in a unique position than its

16	peer statent governments,
17	Be it, therefore, resolved, that the Student Assembly will endorse the creation of a working group
18	of Student Assembly members to study peer institutions, current concepts of representation, and
19	inform any potential of changes in the structure of the Assembly;
20 21	Be it further resolved, that this Working Group will be chaired by the Student Assembly
22	Parliamentarian;
23
24 25	Be it further resolved, the composition of this Working Group will be 2 voting members from the
25	Class of 2023, 2 voting members from the Class of 2022, 1 voting member from the Class of 2021, 1

1	S.A. Resolution #16
2	Creation of the "One Cornell Fund"
4 5	ABSTRACT: This resolution creates a fund for organization collaboration, named the "One Cornell Fund"
6 7	Sponsored by: Joe Anderson '20
8 9 10	Whereas, collaboration between student organizations in programming allows student to engage in conversations with others from a diversity of backgrounds and experiences;
10 11 12 13	Whereas, collaboration between student organizations allows for bigger programs that enhance the student experience;
14 15	Whereas, collaborative co-programming many times can be restrictive on the already limited budgets of many student organizations;
16 17 18	Whereas, it is the duty of the Student Assembly to effectively steward the Student Activity Fee, as per the Student Assembly Charter, Appendix A
19	per the student Assembly Gharter, Appendix A
20 21	Whereas, the Student Assembly has recently experienced an influx of money from a recent transfer from SAFC;
22 23 24 25	Be it therefore resolved, that $10,000 from the Student Assembly Special Projects Fund be allocated to a new account called the "One Cornell Fund" to promote the collaboration of student organizations on programming;
26 27 28	Be it further resolved, that a public application be created and available on the Office of the Assemblies site, next to the current Student Assembly Special Projects Funding Request;
29 30	Be it further resolved, that the following be inserted in the Student Assembly Standing Rules
31	Section 8, effective immediately
32
33	A. C. One Cornell Fund
34	1. Rule 11. The One Cornell Fund may be used by any registered student organizations
35	to promote collaboration for co-programming between the organizations.
36	2. Rule 12. The limit to being sought from the One Cornell Fund is dependent upon
37	the number of organizations participating in the potential collaboration as follows:
38	a) Two organizations: $500 limit
39	b) Three organization $750 limit
40	c) Four or more organizations: $1000 limit
41	3. Rule 13. Approval for all One Cornell Funds should go through the Student
42	Assembly Executive Committee during byline funding cycle years and should go
43 44	through the Student Assembly Appropriations Committee during non-byline funding cycle years.
TT	cycle years.

45	4.	Rule 14. All approved One Cornell Fund requests shall be reported out verbally to
46		the Student Assembly during the "Announcements and Reports" section of the
47		meeting by the Vice President of Finance.
48	5.	Rule 15. Any member of the Student Assembly may ask questions regarding the
49		request and may motion of overturn the funding decision, if opposed, the motion
50		would pass by majority vote of the Student Assembly.

8	Whereas, the accountability and transparency of the Student Assembly can be improved using
9	electronic voting.
10
11 12	Whereas, the efficiency of the Student Assembly can be increased using electronic voting.
12	Be it therefore resolved, that article IV Student Assembly Bylaws are amended to include the
14	following:
16	Section 9: Default Voting Method
17	A. The default method for voting on resolutions shall be vote by electronic device
18 19	B. This section may be suspended on a per-resolution basis through a majority vote of the assembly.
20	Be it therefore resolved, that the Student Assembly Standing Rules are amended to include the
21	following:
22 23 24
23	Section 9: Procedures for Electronic Voting
24 25	A. Rule 1: The voting period on resolutions shall be twenty seconds by default. The chair may

1	S.A. Resolution #12
2	Revising the Student Assembly Bylaws to Dictate that Community Votes be
3	Conducted Online
	Conducted Online
4 5	ABSTRACT: Resolution to revise the Student Assembly bylaws to dictate that community votes be
6 7	conducted online, in order to ensure that community votes are accessible, orderly, and private
8	Sponsored by: Julian Kroll '20, Masa Haddad '21
10	Whereas, the current Student Assembly policy regarding community votes is delineated in Article
11	IV, Section 7 of the Student Assembly Bylaws.
12
13	Whereas, the current procedure for collection of community votes outlined in the bylaws is
14	problematically vague. In regard to voting procedure, the Bylaws only state that the votes
15	will be collected by the Parliamentarian after verification of Cornell Undergraduate status.
16
17	Whereas, in-person verification and voting are only feasible for a limited number of attendees
18	during any given Student Assembly meeting. If the Student Assembly's Parliamentarian is
19 20	tasked with verifying an inordinate number of attendees, it is unlikely that they will be able to
20	do so in an organized and secure manner.
21 22	Whereas, in-person verification and voting are seldom private. As observed during the Student
22	Assembly community vote conducted on April 11, 2019, physically collecting community
23 24	votes forces students to choose between their privacy and their right to vote.
	votes forces students to choose between their privacy and their right to vote.
25 26	W/horeas assuming that waifed water are reasoned by the participantation with no bylews
26	Whereas, assuming that verified votes are recorded by the parliamentarian with no bylaws-
27 28	mandated supervision, the parliamentarian could remain in possession of collected voting information after the Student Assembly meeting's conclusion. This information could be
28 29	circulated without the voters' knowledge or consent.
29 30	circulated without the voters knowledge of consent.
30 31	Whereas, during the Student Assembly community vote conducted on April 11, 2019, several
32	students stated that they were personally imperiled by this lack of privacy.
32 33	students stated that they were personally imperiled by this lack of privacy.
33 34	Whereas, a digital community vote would eliminate this lack of privacy. While a Qualtrics survey
34 35	whereas, a digital community vote would eminiate this fact of privacy. while a Qualities survey would display to the assembly the number of votes cast in the negative and affirmative, the
35 36	Qualtrics survey does not record the voting choice of the individual.
30 37	Qualifies survey does not record the voting choice of the individual.
38	Whereas, physically collecting community votes creates an accessibility differential that empowers
39	groups of high average socioeconomic status and disempowers groups of lower average
40	socioeconomic status.
41
42	Whereas, a higher proportion of lower-income students have on-campus jobs, lab obligations, and/or other work engagements that they are unable to cancel. Consequently, fewer members may find themselves able to attend a 3-hour long meeting on a weekday afternoon.

<ul><li>Whereas, groups comprising individuals of lower socioeconomic status face more boundaries to mobilizing members than groups of higher SES. As a result, groups of lower SES are underrepresented in community votes.</li></ul>
Whereas, digitally collecting votes would resolve this accessibility issue. By allowing students to vote on their mobile devices or computers and extending the voting time-frame, we can reduce the probability of a student being unable to cast a community vote due to time constraints.
Whereas, we propose to collect community votes through a Qualtrics survey formatted with a Cornell University Web Authorization Portal (Henceforth CU Web-auth). The CU Web-auth will verify Cornell Undergraduate status before allowing individuals access to the voting Qualtrics.
Whereas, The Qualtrics survey will intake voting information, display vote results (negative vs. affirmative), but will not keep record the personal voting information of verified students. Records will only indicate whether or not a student submitted a vote.
Whereas, we propose that voting will begin at the beginning of the Student Assembly meeting at which the final vote is conducted and closed as the assembly votes commence. Deliberations will be live streamed.
Whereas, we nonetheless hope that available community members will attend Student Assembly deliberations and engage in a lively and respectful discussion.
Be it therefore resolved , lines 256-259 of the Student Assembly Bylaws will be removed and replaced with the following language:
D. "All community votes shall be submitted through a Qualtrics survey, or an alternative survey medium of comparable functionalities supported by the university, to which a Cornell University Web Authorization Portal has been applied. The survey will include options A. Yes, B. No, and C. Abstain. The link to this survey will be made easily accessible on the Student Assembly website. Voting members of the Student Assembly are prohibited from casting a community vote. The relevant legislation text will be linked on the same page. The web page must also include a clearly visible disclaimer indicating that community votes cannot be altered or revoked after their submission, and that legislation linked on the page may be subject to change during Student Assembly deliberations. The voting shall begin at the beginning of the Student Assembly meeting at which the final vote is conducted. The voting shall end at the commencement of voting for assembly members, at which point the tally of community votes will be announced to the Student Assembly. It will be the responsibility of the Parliamentarian to consult with the Office of the Assemblies in order to 87 88 89	execute these tasks. The parliamentarian may exercise discretion in preemptively preparing a community vote survey for legislation that is particularly engaging to the community, and for which a community vote may be eventually requested.

90 91	Be it finally resolved, after item 6 of Article 3, Section 8 of the Student Assembly. Bylaws, which
92	identify the duties of the parliamentarian, the following language will be inserted:
93
94	7. The parliamentarian shall be responsible for facilitating digital community votes, pursuant
95	to procedures established in the Student Assembly Bylaws Article IV, Section 7, item D.
