

Cornell University University Assembly

U.A. Resolution #11

Accepting President's Proposal of a One-Year Term Extension for the Judicial Administrator

February 13, 2018

Sponsored by: The Executive Committee of the University Assembly

On Behalf Of: The University Assembly

Whereas, Title Two, Article II, Section A, Sub-Section 3 of the Campus Code of Conduct states that "In October of the year preceding the expiration of the term of the Judicial Administrator, or upon the University Assembly chair's receipt of notice of the Judicial Administrator's resignation or removal, the chair shall convene a six-member search committee, including two members appointed by the President and four members appointed by the University Assembly, to propose two or more nominees to the President."

Whereas, this provision of the Code has, for many years, not been adhered to in cases where a current Judicial Administrator's term is expiring but instead only in cases where the chair received notice of the Judicial Administrator's resignation or removal; and

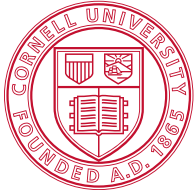

Whereas, the University Assembly has passed the point of being able to use the documented reappointment method; and

Whereas, using an undocumented method for reappointment is inconsistent and bad HR practice; and

Whereas, the President of the University has proposed that by the end of the current semester the University Assembly and the Office of the President will work together to establish a new documented appointment procedure that provides a longer term and more stability for the Judicial Administrator, is more in line with HR practices and peer institutions, and that better acknowledges the far-reaching, campus-wide importance of the role; and

Whereas, the President of the University has proposed extending the current Judicial Administrator's term by one year until Friday, June 22, 2019 to allow the newly developed and documented process to be applied to the reappointment of the current JA;

Be it Therefore Resolved, the University Assembly concurs with the President's proposal to extend the current Judicial Administrator's term until June 22, 2019.

Cornell University University Assembly

Adopted by a Vote of the Assembly (X-X-X), February 13, 2018

Gabriel D. Kaufman

Chair, University Assembly